Still struggling to speak confidently during Group Discussions (GDs), placements, or campus interviews?

You are not alone.

Many students have good ideas but hesitate to express them because of nervousness, lack of speaking practice, or fear of making mistakes. The good news? Strong communication skills can be developed with consistent practice and the right guidance.

In this blog, we explored how MySivi helps learners prepare for Group Discussions and placement interviews by providing real speaking practice and personalized feedback.

• Improve English speaking confidence
• Practice speaking on GD topics regularly
• Build fluency through real conversations
• Learn to express ideas clearly and confidently
• Strengthen placement and interview communication skills
• Reduce hesitation and speak naturally under pressure

Whether you are preparing for campus placements, job interviews, competitive discussions, or professional communication, regular speaking practice can give you the confidence to stand out.

We'd love to hear from you!

What do you find most challenging during Group Discussions?
• Speaking confidently?
• Organizing your thoughts?
• Fear of making mistakes?
• Finding the right words quickly?

Share your experience in the comments and help others improve their communication skills and placement readiness.
